

Whitehall-Coplay Hunger Initiative Website Privacy Policy

Purpose

This Privacy Policy (the “Policy”) discloses the privacy practices for <https://www.whitehallcoplayhungerinitiative.org/>. Whitehall-Coplay Hunger Initiative (“WCHI” or “we”) respects the privacy of our website visitors. Please read this Policy carefully to understand how we will collect, use, and share information about you. By accessing this website (this “Site”), you accept the terms of this Policy.

You should be aware that other websites linked from or to this Site may have privacy policies that differ from this Policy. This Policy applies only to this Site. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of any websites linked to or from this Site. To ensure your privacy is protected, we recommend you review the privacy policies of these other sites.

Modifications

We reserve the right to modify this Policy. If we modify the Policy, we will post the updated version on this Site along with the effective date of the updated version. Your use of this Site after the effective date means you agree to and accept the updated Policy.

Ownership

WCHI is the sole owner of the information collected on this Site. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone.

Types of Information Collected

As used in this Policy, the term “Personal Information” means any information you provide in connection with your use of this Site which identifies you personally such as your name, phone number, address, and email address. We do not collect Personal Information from you unless you email us or otherwise contact us directly.

This Site uses “cookies” and/or other tracking software that recognizes, collects, and transmits certain information about your visits to this Site. Cookies are small pieces of data that are stored by the user’s web browser on the hard drive of the computer accessing this Site. Cookies and other tracking software from this Site gather data such as your Internet protocol (IP) address, type of Internet browser, type of operating system, the domain name of your Internet service provider, how many times you visit our Site and the number of times you access various pages of our Site. Cookies and other tracking software placed on this Site will not be able to access, read, or modify any other data on a computer.

We do not use cookies or other tracking software to collect Personal Information or to retrieve information that is unrelated to your visit to our Site. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies and other tracking software, but you can usually change your browser preferences to refuse to accept cookies and other tracking software. If you refuse to accept cookies and other tracking software from this Site, the performance of this Site may be adversely affected, including your ability to access certain features of this Site.

Use of Information Collected

Once collected, we may use your Personal Information to answer your emails or on-line requests, respond to feedback received from you, send information you requested or that may be of use to you, and to tell you about specials, or new or existing products or services. You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time by notifying us at the e-mail address or phone number identified below that you do not wish to receive any further communications.

This Site uses cookies and/or other tracking software to determine the number of different visitors to the Site and where they come from, to evaluate what portions of the Site are more popular than others, and to analyze Site usage. This information is used to customize user interaction with our Site and to enhance the performance and utility of our Site.

We also use information collected or obtained through our Site, but generally not including Personal Information, to ensure compliance with the Terms and Conditions of the use of this Site and for our own internal business purposes which include administering and improving this Site, gathering broad demographic data (including compiling statistical reports that include aggregate data regarding our Site visitor traffic), and analyzing trends.

Disclosure of Information

We retain service providers to assist us with the design, development, and administration of this Site. The non-personally identifiable information collected by the cookies and/or other tracking software from this Site is accessible by WCHI and the service providers who service this Site. We restrict access to Personal Information to our service providers who need to know that information in order to operate, develop or improve our services. We will only provide those companies the Personal Information they need to deliver the service and we require them to protect your privacy and not disclose your Personal Information to third parties.

We may disclose your information, including your Personal Information, under any of the following circumstances: (a) if we believe we are required to do so by law, regulation, a court order, or other legal process; (b) in order to cooperate with an ongoing investigation by a governmental authority or agency; (c) if we believe your use of this Site has violated or may violate any law or regulation, or our Terms and Conditions; or (d) if we believe you are or may be a threat to our interests or rights or the interests or rights of a third party. Except as otherwise provided in this Policy, we will not disclose your Personal Information to any third parties without your prior consent.

Registration

Some of the features on this Site require registration with WCHI before access to certain sections of this Site is granted. Once such access is granted, you may be issued a user name and password. You should safeguard your user name and password and not make either of them available to any other persons whom you do not authorize as your agent. You may not sell, resell, assign or transfer your access rights. It is our policy to grant access to anyone using your password in conjunction with your username and to treat anyone using your username and password as your agent for all purposes. You should notify us immediately of any unauthorized use of your user name and/or password.

Surveys and Contests

From time-to-time, surveys and contests may be conducted on this Site, and in connection with any such survey or contest this Site may request information from any person participating in the survey or contest, including but not limited to contact and demographic information. Participation in any such survey or contest is completely voluntary and you may choose whether or not to participate and disclose this information to us. Information submitted in connection with any such survey or contest may be collected, used and shared as permitted under this Policy.

Security

If you send information to us over the Internet, we will make reasonable efforts to secure the information both online and offline once we receive your transmission; however, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Therefore, we cannot guarantee the security of any information, including Personal Information and confidential and privileged information, that you transmit to us over the Internet and any such transmission is at your own risk.

Children

We do not knowingly solicit data online from or market online to children under the age of thirteen (13).
